Kithabel is the Bell from the Momentum universe.

History

Background

Kithabel was born and raised in the kingdom of Tanree.[1] She began using magic at age four, later dropping out of school to focus on it full time. She became officially qualified as a sorceress by the time she was eighteen, and while out sorceress-ing she meets and befriends Dianira. [2]

Unthreaded Plans

Kithabel eventually builds herself a castle in the Sunlit Satrapy but is cursed by a rival sorcerer to lie unconscious until she receives true love's kiss.[3] When the Plague of Utopias enters Momentum and finds out about the curse, they convince Darian Phillips, their only single Adarin, to attempt to wake her. His kiss successfully wakes Kithabel, and she awakes unharmed but completely drained of momentum. Darian moves in with her and they both start work on acquiring momentum.[4]

Abilities

Kithabel's abilities as a sorceress depend on her levels of momentum. She can cause desired effects happen simply by willing them strongly enough. Her largest known achievements include the ability to fly and the construction of her castle.
