Lt. Anastasia Shoreman

This Anise is from the Terran Empire, the dystopic mirror universe counterpart to the Federation of Planets. Her childhood was different from standard in that her foster parents' horrible treatment of her was less hidden and more socially acceptable. They died in an "accidental" gas fire when she was a teenager; she was horribly scarred in the same fire (worth it) and later had plastic surgery, electing to get a completely new face instead of restoring the old one.
